Discussion and Goal Setting

Learn

Good discussions help us learn together. When you share in class, follow these expectations:

- Listen respectfully.
- Wait for an appropriate turn.
- Stay on topic.
- Link your comment to what another speaker said.

Remember: Linking a comment means connecting your idea to what someone else shared.

Learn — Linking Comment Starters

- I agree with ___ because…
- I would like to add to what ___ said…
- I have a different idea because…
- When ___ said ___, it made me think…
- Can you explain what you meant by…?

Learn — Goals

A long-term goal takes a longer period of time to achieve.

A short-term goal can be achieved soon and can serve as a step toward a long-term goal.

Academic goals focus on learning and schoolwork.

Personal goals focus on habits, character, relationships, hobbies, and responsibilities.

Practice Together

Sort the goals below. Write S for short-term or L for long-term. Write A for academic or P for personal.

1. _____ / _____ Learn all multiplication facts by December
2. _____ / _____ Read for 20 minutes tonight
3. _____ / _____ Make the school basketball team this year
4. _____ / _____ Clean my room before dinner
5. _____ / _____ Improve my handwriting this semester
6. _____ / _____ Write a letter to my future self

Chapter 1 — Lesson 1

Discussion and Goal Setting (continued)

Practice Independently

Choose one academic long-term goal. Write it below, then write two or three short-term action steps.

My academic long-term goal:

Short-term action steps:

Choose one personal long-term goal. Write it below, then write two or three short-term action steps.

My personal long-term goal:

Journaling and Letter to Future Me

Learn

Remember: A journal is a personal written record of thoughts, feelings, experiences, plans, and imagined stories.

You may write about:

- Family
- Friends
- Pets
- Hobbies
- Favorite activities
- Important events
- Future plans
- Worries
- Goals
- Made-up stories

Practice Together

Choose one journal topic from the list. Write a short journal entry below.

Learn — Letter to Future Me

You will write a letter to yourself to read during the last week of school. Include these four parts:

1. Who I Am Right Now
2. My Thoughts About Fourth Grade
3. My Goals and Action Steps
4. A Message to My Future Self

Chapter 1 — Lesson 2

Planning Organizer — Part 1

You may combine sections naturally into paragraphs. You do not need exactly three paragraphs.

Practice Independently — Planning Organizer

Who I Am Right Now

- What are your favorite hobbies?
- What are your favorite foods, games, books, or activities?
- What is important to you right now?

My Thoughts About Fourth Grade

- What are you excited about?
- What feels new?
- What makes you nervous?
- How will you handle challenges?

Chapter 1 — Lesson 2

Planning Organizer — Part 2

Practice Independently — Planning Organizer (continued)

My Goals and Action Steps

- What is one academic goal?
- What short-term actions will help you reach it?
- What is one personal goal?
- What short-term actions will help you reach it?

A Message to My Future Self

- What do you hope you accomplished?
- What do you want your future self to remember?
- What encouragement would you give yourself?

Chapter 1 — Lesson 2

Model Letter to Future Me

Learn — Model Letter

Read this fourth-grade model letter. Notice how it includes all four parts.

Dear Future Me,

Right now I am a fourth grader who loves drawing, playing soccer, and reading adventure books. My favorite food is mac and cheese, and my best friend is Maya. Something important to me is being a kind friend.

Fourth grade feels exciting and a little new. I am excited about science experiments and the class read-aloud. I feel nervous about harder math, but I plan to ask for help and keep practicing.

One academic goal is to read 20 chapter books this year. A short-term step is to read for 20 minutes four nights each week. One personal goal is to keep my room tidy. A short-term step is to put away my clothes every night.

I hope you remember how hard you worked and how much you grew. Keep being curious, keep being kind, and keep trying even when something feels tough.

Your friend,
Alex

Understanding Analogies

Learn

An analogy is a way of thinking about how pairs of words are related. It is a special word puzzle.

Spoken example: boat is to goat as fan is to _____.

Written example: front : back :: top : _____

Remember — Analogy Symbols

Colon (:) — separates the two words in each pair.

Double colon (::) — means “is to ___ as”.

“Is to” — connects the first word pair.

“As” — connects the first pair to the second pair.

Worked Example

front : back :: top : bottom

The first pair shows opposites. The second pair shows opposites too. That is an antonym analogy.

Quick Check

Try it: boat is to goat as fan is to _____. Write the word that completes the rhyme.

Chapter 1 — Lesson 4

Four Common Analogy Relationships

Learn — Four Relationship Types

Study each relationship card below. Notice the large example and the short explanation.

Synonym big : large :: sound : noise The words in each pair mean almost the same.	Antonym big : small :: fast : slow The words in each pair are opposites.
Rhyming near : deer :: jump : stump The words in each pair rhyme.	Part-to-Whole leaf : tree :: paw : dog The first word is part of the second.

Tip: Read the relationship name first, then read the example aloud using "is to" and "as."

Capitalization and Punctuation Reference

Use this reference during Lessons 5 and 6. The next pages show the official Shurley punctuation and capitalization rules.

Reference 9 — Punctuation Rules (next page)

Reference 7 — Capitalization Rules (following page)

Skill Time

The rules in Reference 9 will help you understand some of the conventions for punctuation. You will learn more punctuation rules as you progress through your studies.

Reference 9

Punctuation Rules

Use this reference whenever you need help remembering your punctuation rules.

Student Tip...
If you are not completely sure about a new rule that you are learning, raise your hand and ask your teacher to clarify it for you. Remember to engage your listening skills!

The End of a Sentence

1. Put a period, a question mark, or an exclamation point at the end of a sentence.
   - James is very tall.
     Are you coming to my birthday party?
     We won the lottery!

Clarifying Information

2. Put a comma between words in a series.
   - I like apples, oranges, and bananas.
3. Put commas between the words in a date:
   - Between the day and the month: Friday, July 23
   - Between the day and the year: July 23, 2013
   - Between the year and the rest of the sentence:
     Our wedding is Saturday, April 24, 2013, at our church.

Contractions, Possessive Nouns, Abbreviations

4. Use an apostrophe in contractions (isn't) and possessive nouns (Mom's) and use a period at the end of most abbreviations.
   - Dr. - Feb. - Mr.

Letters and Addresses

5. Put a comma in the greeting and closing of letters.
   - After the name in the greeting: Dear Charles,
   - After the word(s) used in the closing: Sincerely,
     Josh
6. Put a comma between locations in an address.
   - Between the city and the state or country: I live in Dallas, Texas.
   - Between the state or country and the rest of the sentence:
     Bart lives in Omaha, Nebraska, with his parents.

Quotations

7. Use quotation marks before and after the exact words of a speaker.
   - Jay said, "I am hungry!"
8. Put quotation marks before and after the exact words from a book, story, or poem.
   - The author describes Jim as "a tall, thin man with a friendly grin."

Sentences

9. Put a comma before the coordinating conjunction in a compound sentence and after an introductory clause in a complex sentence.
   - Compound: Don played golf, and I played tennis.
   - Complex: After Trey left the game, his team scored a touchdown.
10. Put a comma after an adverb or prepositional phrase before the subject of an inverted word-order sentence.
    - On Tuesday, we went to the movies.

Titles of Works

11. Italicize or underline the titles and subtitles of full-length published works, such as books, movies, long plays, long poems, newspapers.
    - The Giver is a book written by Lois Lowry.
12. Put quotation marks around the titles of shorter published works and parts of long works, such as short stories, most poems, songs, one-act plays, chapters in a book, or newspaper articles.
    - "The Red-Headed League" is my favorite Sherlock Holmes mystery.

Separating Extra Words from the Sentence

13. Use commas to set off interrupting words, such as appositives, nouns of direct address, tag questions, yes and no.
    - An appositive is extra information given after a noun:
      Sue, my friend, is an artist.
    - A noun of direct address is the person spoken to:
      Aunt Jan, will you visit us?
    - A tag question is a short question at the end of a statement:
      It is pretty, isn't it?
    - Yes and no are also called introductory words:
      Yes, it is very nice.
