Understanding Analogies

Learn

An analogy shows how two word pairs are related. It is a special word puzzle.

Spoken: boat is to goat as fan is to _____.

Written: front : back :: top : _____

Remember — Analogy Symbols

Colon (:) — separates the two words in each pair.

Double colon (::) — means “is to ___ as”.

“Is to” — connects the first word pair.

“As” — connects the first pair to the second pair.

Worked Example

front : back :: top : bottom

Both pairs are opposites — an antonym analogy.

Four Analogy Relationships

Chapter 1 — Lesson 4

Study each card. Read the example using "is to" and "as."

Synonym big : large :: sound : noise The words in each pair mean almost the same.	Antonym big : small :: fast : slow The words in each pair are opposites.
Rhyming near : deer :: jump : stump The words in each pair rhyme.	Part-to-Whole leaf : tree :: paw : dog The first word is part of the second.

The rules in Reference 9 will help you understand some of the conventions for punctuation. You will learn more punctuation rules as you progress through your studies.

Reference 9

Punctuation Rules

Use this reference whenever you need help remembering your punctuation rules.

Student Tip...
If you are not completely sure about a new rule that you are learning, raise your hand and ask your teacher to clarify it for you. Remember to engage your listening skills!

The End of a Sentence

1. Put a period, a question mark, or an exclamation point at the end of a sentence.
   - James is very tall.
     Are you coming to my birthday party?
     We won the lottery!

Clarifying Information

2. Put a comma between words in a series.
   - I like apples, oranges, and bananas.
3. Put commas between the words in a date:
   - Between the day and the month: Friday, July 23
   - Between the day and the year: July 23, 2013
   - Between the year and the rest of the sentence:
     Our wedding is Saturday, April 24, 2013, at our church.

Contractions, Possessive Nouns, Abbreviations

4. Use an apostrophe in contractions (isn't) and possessive nouns (Mom's) and use a period at the end of most abbreviations.
   - Dr. - Feb. - Mr.

Letters and Addresses

5. Put a comma in the greeting and closing of letters.
   - After the name in the greeting: Dear Charles,
   - After the word(s) used in the closing: Sincerely,
     Josh
6. Put a comma between locations in an address.
   - Between the city and the state or country: I live in Dallas, Texas.
   - Between the state or country and the rest of the sentence:
     Bart lives in Omaha, Nebraska, with his parents.

Quotations

7. Use quotation marks before and after the exact words of a speaker.
   - Jay said, "I am hungry!"
8. Put quotation marks before and after the exact words from a book, story, or poem.
   - The author describes Jim as "a tall, thin man with a friendly grin."

Sentences

9. Put a comma before the coordinating conjunction in a compound sentence and after an introductory clause in a complex sentence.
   - Compound: Don played golf, and I played tennis.
   - Complex: After Trey left the game, his team scored a touchdown.
10. Put a comma after an adverb or prepositional phrase before the subject of an inverted word-order sentence.
    - On Tuesday, we went to the movies.

Titles of Works

11. Italicize or underline the titles and subtitles of full-length published works, such as books, movies, long plays, long poems, newspapers.
    - The Giver is a book written by Lois Lowry.
12. Put quotation marks around the titles of shorter published works and parts of long works, such as short stories, most poems, songs, one-act plays, chapters in a book, or newspaper articles.
    - "The Red-Headed League" is my favorite Sherlock Holmes mystery.

Separating Extra Words from the Sentence

13. Use commas to set off interrupting words, such as appositives, nouns of direct address, tag questions, yes and no.
    - An appositive is extra information given after a noun:
      Sue, my friend, is an artist.
    - A noun of direct address is the person spoken to:
      Aunt Jan, will you visit us?
    - A tag question is a short question at the end of a statement:
      It is pretty, isn't it?
    - Yes and no are also called introductory words:
      Yes, it is very nice.
